

PSHE and Citizenship

At Crofton Hammond Infant School we believe that Personal, Social Health Education is key to ensuring the future success and happiness of our children. Through a planned curriculum, that follows the Hampshire PDL Guidelines, we teach children to develop empathy, independence, self-esteem, responsibility and a sense of belonging. Children are taught to always respect others and their environment.

We are committed to ensuring the wellbeing of our children and place great importance on teaching children ways to make the right choices and keep themselves safe and healthy. We have achieved Hampshire Healthy Schools Status. We prepare our children to become active citizens, giving them a real voice within our community. As well as being taught discreetly, we link elements of our PSHE and citizenship curriculum to all areas of learning. We believe that a happy and nurturing school environment, which values links with parents and the wider community, allows children's personal and social skills to flourish.
