

Week beginning 12th November

English

We began the week by looking at emojis and all the different emotions they represent. Then we listened to a story and had to make an emotion time graph showing all the emotions that the main character in the story goes through and how they can look a bit like a rollercoaster ride!

At the end of the week we learnt about exclamatory sentences, they have to begin with the word 'What' or 'How' and finish with an exclamation mark, eg. What a beautiful blue dress! How sharp his claws are!

We watched clips about animals and wrote our own exclamatory sentences to fit the animal.

Maths

This week we have been learning about sharing objects equally between people. We learnt how to share equally and record it as a number sentence.

$$20 \div 5 = 4$$

Art

Our art focus has involved us learning about Friedensreich Hundertwasser. He was one of the most important artists and architects during the 20th Century, he was born in Austria in 1928. His pictures have a huge impact, using bright colours and intriguing shapes. We have loved saying his name!

Science

Owls have been investigating materials this week. They were exploring the properties of different materials and whether they were rough or smooth or fluffy, etc.

Handwriting

This week the Badgers have been practising writing capital letters whilst some of the Owls have been practising their joins with an emphasis on spelling common exceptions words correctly.

PE

Once again we have been developing our hockey skills, this time we played team games that involved controlling the ball with our sticks.

Reading Activities

We listened to the story 'Voices in the park' by Antony Browne, some of us really enjoyed the book, whilst others thought it slightly strange!

Children in Need

Thank you to everyone who brought money in, we all enjoyed placing it on Pudsey. The morning was spent completing children in need activities and learning about why we donate money. We had a surprise visitor today, look who called in to school to say hello.

Rocket Reward

Congratulations to everyone who reached the moon, this afternoon we made rice krispie cakes and ate them whilst watching a children in need clip.
