

Week beginning 11th March 2019

In maths this week we have been revisiting our prior learning and using a variety of methods to solve a range of number sentences and problems. We have encouraged the children to use equipment, pictures and number when finding ways to solve things

In phonics we have been teaching the children how to put 'sound buttons' under their words and sentences, to help them identify the digraphs and tri-graphs they have learned. We have also been revising our sounds from both Year R and Year 1.

All week the children have been immersing themselves in the world of art. We have looked at the works of Banksy and Ken Done, to recreate pieces and produce our own artwork in the style of each artist.

We rounded off our week with an energetic session led by the student from St. Vincent college, in honour of Comic Relief. The children ran laps of the playground and took part in a group dance, which included the songs 'Baby Shark', 'Gangnam Style' and the 'Macarena'!
