You may have noticed that turtle is a bit concerned and asks many questions during the journey through the creek. Can you spot them?

Tuesday

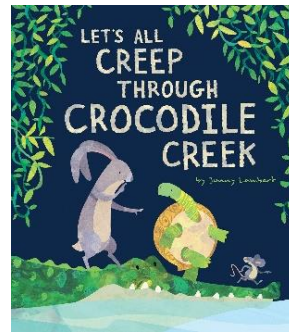

At the end of the story, the characters say they will take a shortcut through the fearsome, frightful forest. We are going to continue their adventure and write speech bubbles for what happens when they go through the forest!

You are going to think about what questions turtle might ask this time, when they travel through the forest.

Watch Seesaw video tutorial

Use the sheet below to help you think of some adjectives to describe the tiger. You will use these in turtle's questions on Thursday.

This week, the story we are going to focus on is called 'Let's all creep through crocodile creek', written by Jonny Lambert. The author has a few other stories you might have heard before, like 'The Big angry roar'.

Don't forget to fill out the voting slip at the end of the week to let us know what you thought about the book.

Key objectives

- Begin to punctuate sentences using a question mark
- Write a simple sentence- compose a sentence orally before writing it, and re-read what is written to check it makes sense
- To use capital letters, finger spaces and full stops in my writing.

Thursday

Today you are going to use your tiger adjectives and put them into a question. Use the speech bubbles to write turtles questions. See Seesaw for an example!

Don't forget, questions still need capital letters and a question mark at the end.

Once you finish, you could also add your own illustrations of the forest to each page.

Friday

Use the voting slip (set as an activity on seesaw) to submit your vote for 'Let's all creep through crocodile creek'. You can give the style, story and stretch a score out of ten (10 being the best).

Remember to share anything you have done on SeeSaw!
