

Dear Parents/Carers,

You may be aware that the Met Office has issued an amber weather warning for very strong winds tomorrow (Thursday 2nd November 2023) in our area.

At this stage, we do not expect this to cause significant disruption to the school day, but we will monitor this carefully and keep the children inside for their lessons, and at break/lunchtime, if necessary.

We will contact you (initially via text) should the advice from Hampshire County Council change and we need to close the school. However, at present there are no plans for a school closure, and you should plan for your child to attend school as normal unless informed otherwise.

Thank you for your support.

Sian Hosmer, Headteacher
